A New Ampullaria.—DR. H. A. PILSBRY spoke of an Ampullaria recently collected by himself and Dr. T. H. Montgomery, Jr., in a creek flowing from the Everglades near Miami, Dade County, in southeastern Florida, specimens of the shell being exhibited.

The species, which he proposed to name Ampullaria miamiensis, is similar to A. depressa Say, of the St. John's river, in size and general contour, but adult shells are remarkably solid and strong, with the peristome heavily thickened, the callus being especially strong at the base of the columella. The color is very dark, with obscure spiral bands, usually more or less lost in the general duskiness in adult individuals.
